

$5
Including GST

DE LUXE TIMES

Friday, September 16, 2005

INTRODUCING LUXE STUDIOS

DESIGNS THAT REALLY MAKE A Difference

Every year web site design becomes a challenge for small/medium businesses worldwide; acquiring reputable and reliable designers for their “dream web site” turns into more of a challenge than a solution.

According to Cristina Manciu, Accounts/Marketing Executive of Luxe Studios, “there are only several elite web site design agencies in Canada that provide top customer service and achieve fresh and stylish designs for their clients. A large advertising agency could definitely create fresh designs and give professional service, though advertising agencies can be a very expensive and lengthy process”.

The new decade brings out many business owners who choose to design their own web sites. Although this may save expenditures and time, the outcome is a web site that is not compatible with multiple browsers and platforms, or easy-to-use for the end user. Cristina has seen her fair share of owner/operator designed web sites. With customer service and design in mind, she has shown business owners the advantages of having a professionally designed web site and has proved her work and skills time after time.

Luxe Studios has been developed to help businesses obtain original design, the best customer service, and dependable development for their online presence. The motto “Designs That Make a Difference ” really makes the company stand out when it comes to satisfying the client with their designs. Luxe caters to all businesses, no matter the size, and offers designs for a fraction of the price of many larger agencies. Originally Titanium Graphics, Luxe Studios has served several businesses with full web development and branding solutions for years to date.

“With the clouded market of today’s web design industry, it is hard for business owners to select the right designers for the job. Taking into consideration cost and time for the service, many agencies are unable to undertake the task for the proposed price. Luxe Studios realizes businesses have set budgets, and therefore makes sure that even the smallest businesses receive the same quality of service that the larger sized businesses receive.” says Cristina.

Luxe Studios will be launching their website on September 25, 2005. Flawless, professional, and gleaming design is what can be expected from their site. The portfolio can be viewed at Portfolio.LuxeStudios.com.